

15th March 2021

Dear Parents,
Today we finally met our ele-baby!

We are very excited about the project and can't wait to get started. The first stage is a design competition where we are looking to decide the THEME for our elephant. This can be absolutely anything! We're not looking to choose the final design or exactly how our elephant is going to look at this stage, but a drawing may help explain your idea for a theme. It might be something linked to a story or film about elephants, something linked to the lifestyle or habits of elephants, something linked to an elephant's habitat, something amusing or clever linked to the word "elephant" or something elephant related - like trunk or tusks etc. There really is no limit to how creative you can be and we're hoping to find from this a theme that has lots of potential.

Once we have our theme, we will select a smaller design team to develop and refine the theme into a workable design. We then hope to involve every child in the school in some small way with the actual decorating and painting.

The closing date is Tuesday 30th March so get your thinking caps on and let's see those elephantastic ideas! - Mr G

The whole project will be captured with photo and video along the way - Similar to the recent promotional video. This will be used on our school website and the videos will be hosted publicly on YouTube. We will want to share our adventures widely and it's important that you are happy to give consent for your child to feature. Children are never named individually in our videos. We are very careful and sensitive about how we use media but there may be opportunities to share our videos for example on the Wild in Art Facebook page or on the Worcester's Big Parade website itself to inspire other schools so we do need 'full permission' up front.

Please tick one only option.

*I'm happy for my child to appear publicly, in photo and video, in any web-based media, including YouTube, external websites or in newspapers as school sees appropriate

*I would like to submit this competition entry but not feature in publicity

Because of the tight timescale, we may need to hold a Zoom with the design team over the Easter holiday. Please let me have an email address so I can arrange this.
